CARLSON QUITS AS LEGION HEAD

150 RICHMOND BOYS GOING TO SUMMER CAMPS; GRAMMAR GRADUATES TO SUPPLY HIGH SCHOOL

TOM CARLSON RESIGNS AS LEGION HEAD

"I may run for Assemblyman. I am thinking about it. I have not fully decided. Yes, you can say that I may run," T. M. Carlson told the Record-Herald last night when interviewed touching his resignation as commander of Richmond Post of the American Legion.

"I did not want any political ambitions I might entertain mixed in with Legion activites. There being a probability of my making the race, I thought it not only right but imperative that I should resign, though I quit the place with regret," concluded Carlson.

T. M. Carlson last night resigned as commander of Richmond Post No. 10, American Legion.

His resignation was formal and brief, and business and priavte interests not compatible with the position were given as the reason.

The members of the post were not wholly unprepared for this action, as Carlson has sometime ago intimated that he would resign. Even so, there was general regret evidenced and voiced by the Legionaires.

Carlson has held office since the first of the year, and has proven a live wire and loyal executive.

May Enter Politics

It is generally believed that this action of Carlson is preliminary to his announcement for the office of assemblyman.

That the American Legion will be active in civic and political affairs this year and henceforth, seems a foregone conclusion: last night W. A. Vickery, member of the executive committee, and a Spanish War veteran, told the Legionaires that there is now in the making a "Bolo Club," the objects of which will be to use all legitimate and honorable means to advance the candidacies of worthy ex-service men.

Ever see a bolo?

Ask some of the soldiers that saw service in the Philippines.

The bolo is a bad instrument in the hands of a Filipino filled with "bino," and one well-directed blow on the base of the neck will topple a No. 7 head into Kingdom Come.

The name "Blyo" seems significant for a political club.

Joe Bowen, Soldier

Joe S. Bowen, senior vice commander, and a brave and gallant chap who saw distinguished service overseas, was temporarily named to the commandership last night. George M. Reifschneider moved up to senior vice commander and Fulkerson was made junior vice commander.

The adjutant was directed to send out notices and Carlson's successor and two members of the executive committee will be named.

Good Program Given

John Torfoll, Richmond boy, played some pleasing selections on his beautiful accordion, and Dougherty and McCready, overseas vets from San Francisco, gave several jazzy numbers including black face skits.

The Sunshine Four," from Oakland, composed of J. Fazzio, lead; J. Wary, tenor, Benny Vierra, baritone, and Eddy Dalton, bass, delighted the gang with their tuneful melodies, and Fazzilo demonstrated unusual versatility.

Good boxing bouts between Benny Vierra lightweight champion of the coast and Bobby Burns, and Eddy Dalton with Johnny Burns, closed the entertainment.

The committee: David J. Gross, Joel S. Crose, J. M. Hansen and W. S. Leard.

T.H.DeLap To Wed Girl In Logan, O.

With a thirty days' leave of absence granted by the Board of Supervisors, who support the theory that "all the world loves a lover," Deputy District Attorney T. H. DeLap left yesterday for Logan, Ohio, where he will be married next week to Miss Catherine Yontz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yontz, of that city.

The nuptial rites will be simple and will be celebrated at the home of the bride's parents. After the ceremony the couple will leave on a honeymoon, which will include a voyage on the St. Lawrence, stays at Lake Louise, Toronto and Bannf, and finally home to Richmond, where they will temporarily reside in a flat at 418 Eighth street.

The bride-to-be was a visitor to Richmond from September, 1920, to March, 1921, when she was the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. U. S. Abbott. Her father is a prominent merchant at Logan, which is about 100 miles from Columbus. She was educated in the high schools of her home city and took a finishing course in one of the Eastern colleges for women.

T. H. DeLap is a prominent and popular member of the Richmond bar. He was born in Klamath Falls, Ore., where he went to school, and is the first graduate of the high school of that city; later he was a student at the Woodland, Calif., high school, and majored in law at the University of California .He has lived in Richmond for ten years.

DeLap served two years with the A. E. forces during the World war. He was attached to the French army for some time and also was with the First Division of the United States army, serving honorably and faithfully until his discharge after the signing of the armistice. He is an Elk and a Mason and a member of the Rotary and Berkeley Country Clubs. He is a director of the Country Club and of the First National Bank of Richmond.

P. M. Sanford has been awarded the contract for the construction of a modern two-flat building to be erected by H. M. Michaelian, West Side tailor. The structure will be erected on the north side of Barrett avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets, and will cost about $7500.

A permit to build a bungalow on Twelfth street between Barrett and Roosevelt avenues, has been taken out by J. H. Rumrill. The cost will be $3100 and A. J. Fagerstrow will be the contractor.

L. ORTHMAN CRUEL, SUIT OF WIFE SAYS

Suit for divorce on grounds of extreme cruelty was filed in the Superior Court Friday by Margaret Orthman of Richmond.

The complaint alleges that the defendant has a violent temper and has on occasions seized the plaintiff, struck her and declared that he would "knock her head off."

They were married in 1916 and have two children the custody of whom the plaintiff asks. The plaintiff also alleges that the defendant had accused her of familiarity with other men. Fifty dollars monthly as alimony is also asked. Pierce & Carlson are attorneys for the plaintiff.

The Orthmans reside at 1919 Roosevelt avenue.

Richmond Girl Sings Sunday At Greek Theater

At the regular weekly concert at Hearst's Greek Theater tomorrow evening, a Richmond girl will be one of the principal artistes. Miss Lesta E. Andrews, teacher in the Peres school, will sing two numbers: "Voi Vag Sapete," (Mozart), and "Spring Song" from Samson et Delilah (Saint Saens). Mr. H. B. Pasmore of San Francisco and Berkeley, will be at the piano.

Miss Andrews has a pure contralto voice, and is encouraged by Mr. Pasmore, whose pupil she is, to go in for concert singing, but she wisely is permitting full development of her vocal powers before essaying any difficult professional undertakings.

She has studied voice in Denver and Los Angeles and for three years has taught in the Peres school.

She resides with her mother at 993 Lucas avenue, this city.

HALL AT GOAT ISLAND HEARING

City Attorney D. J. Hall plans to attend the hearing on the proposed Goat Island terminal in San Francisco next Monday for the purpose of ascertaining whether the project will or will not affect the railroad terminal facilities of Richmond.

Richmond will be benefited if Goat Island becomes a terminal for all railroads terminating in Oakland. On the other hand, if it is to be a terminal for the Key Route and the Santa Fe only, then Richmond plans to fight the project. It is thought that the loss of the Santa Fe terminal here would also mean the loss of the local Santa Fe shops.

DURANT BUYS WILLYS PLANT

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 9.—Properties of the Willys Corporation here were bid in today at auction by the Durant Motor Car Corporation for $5,525,000. The second highest bidder was the Maxwell Motor Car Company and was $5,500,000. Sale of the Willys plant, which covers 37 acres and had an estimated value of approximately $11,000,000, must await confirmation of Judge Bodine in the Federal District Court at Newark.

Closing Of Lincoln is Memorable

One of the largest graduating classes in the history of the Lincoln school received diplomas of graduation at the commencement exercises last evening in the school auditorium. The stage was prettily decorated in green and gold—the school colors—with a gold '22 in front and ferns and snap dragons in the background lending a bright air to the setting. The presentation was made by J. E. Zumwalt, principal of the school, who made a few well-chosen remarks in opening.

This was probably the last June graduation to be held at the Lincoln school because all future classes will complete their elementary education at the Roosevelt Junior High, which will embrace the seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

The following program was given last evening:

ATTACKER OF SMALL GIRL SEEN IN MARIN

The officers of Marin county are still searching for Joseph Diaz, youthful prisoner at the county jail, who escaped from the courthouse grounds a week ago.

According to word received at the Sheriff's office on Friday, Diaz had been staying for the past week with Manuel Mardo, 11 miles from Petaluma. Thursday Diaz left Mardo's place and took with him $27 in cash and a gold watch belonging to his host.

Mardo reported the theft to the officers. He said he did not know that Diaz was a fugitive. Deputy Sheriff A. D. Joslin is working with the Marin county officials in an effort to locate Diaz.

Shortly after Diaz made his escape he is reported to have made a criminal assault upon a 9-year-old girl residing on a ranch seevral miles from Martinez.

A day or two ago he was seen at St. Vincent's school, near San Rafael, according to reports.

The meeting of the Organized Women of the First Christian church Thursday afternoon at the church was featured by an interesting address by Miss Mary Kingsbury. Miss Kingsbury, who has seen much missionary service in India, told many of her experiences. Following her address, a short talk was made by Mrs. Anna Dingdillian, of Armenia, who asked support in the present clothes drive. A vocal solo was given by Mrs. Archie H. Read, accompanied by Mrs. Humphries. Tea and cake were served by Mesdames Cryan, Zumwalt, Aud bert and Wyatt

School Trustees Held Convention

City Superintendent of Schools W. T. Helms, and Trustees J. O. Ford and H. W. Mergenthaler attended the convention of school trustees of the county, held at Martinez.

Fifteen grammar schools is enough for Contra Costa county, according to Dr. W. F. Hart, of the University of California, who talked to the trustees.

Other speakers were Mrs. Alice G. Whitbeck, county librarian, and R. J. White, assistant superintendent of schools.

Shriners Will Wear Fezes Daily

Illustrious Potentate Morris, of Aahmes Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, of Oakland, has issued a proclamation calling on all Shriners of the "great East Bay communities" to don their fezes on the streets, at their places of business and in all public gatherings beginning tomorrow, June 11, and continuing till June 18.

The 195 Shriners living in Richmond are expected to fall in line with the suggestion.

On Wednesday, June 14, uniformed Shriners from 30 states will join Aahmes Temple in a big parade in Oakland. The parade will start from lower Broadway at 11 o'clock.

Richmond people will turn out in large numbers for the parade in Oakland.

Later in the day, not less than 500 of the Nobles are scheduled to come to this city and be guests of the Standard Oil plant, where they will be served luncheon at 2:30 o'clock.

TRUSTEES AT EL CERRITO DENY DRINK PERMIT

The question of paving Lincoln avenue came on for discussion by the trustees of El Cerrito at their meeting last night, but they have been unable to fix upon a plan of assessment or the width of the same.

Property owners will be asked to say whether they would prefer a 30-foot or 40 foot street.

Miss May Curtain asked the trustees whether sewers could not be installed in Clayton avenue before the improvement of the street is made, and was referred to the sanitary board, the trustees being without jurisdiction in the premises.

The application of Herman Gruhn for a soft drink permit, San Pablo avenue and Schmidt's lane, was denied. Trustees Conlon and McDermott voted aye, Gray, Connoly and Lee voting no.

George Adams told the trustees that the goats are running wild in El Cerrito, and that a poundman ought to be employed. No action was taken.

Charles Schaefer asked the trustees for their support for a Fourth of July celebration. He spoke as representative of the Community Club of El Cerrito. The club, he stated, would have boxing, racing, baseball and dancing.

Trustee Robert Connolly reported that there is a well opposite Lafayette Park that is uncovered. City Superintendent of Streets A. H. McKinnon was directed to cover the same and to confer with the State Highway Commision with a view to having it filled.

The treasurer's report up to June 1 showed $6,922.91.

Conn-Gracie Marriage Today

Miss Ethel Gracie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gracie, will become the bride of Ivan Conn, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Richmond at a ceremony to take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Baptist church. 100 BOYS IN FIRST CAMP; GIRLS' CAMP NOW ASSURED

More than 100 Richmond boys will leave here next Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock for Camp Lar-A-Lot, in the Clear Lake country, summer camp sponsored by the Richmond Y. M. C. A.

Last night at a meeting that jammed the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. in the Schram building, 97 boys were reported signed up, money paid in everything.

"O sure, there will be at least 100 boys, and I think it's wonderful. Why, that's more than Oakland sends," said Secretary V. D. Brammer, as he beamed his gratification last night.

Mothers and fathers were in evidence at last night's meeting, and asked plenty of questions, and were satisfied at the answers touching the plans and arrangements for making their boys safe, sane and happy.

The advance guard, with commissary supplies and equipment, will leave at 6 o'clock Monday morning.

The second camp will start on June 22, and about 50 boys already have signed up for that.

The chef, G. W. Robinson, a man that has made omelets for royalty, and brewed broth for those who sit "in the seats of the mighty," will be in charge of the cookery.

O yes, there's going to be a girls' camp, too.

Eight girls of the city have signed up. Their camp will start on July 3. Those desiring to go may sign up at any time from now till July 2, at the offices of the Y. M. C. A.

The girls' camp will be in charge of Mrs. V. D. Brammer, Miss Jane Curnow and other trained teachers of the city who are experienced in camp life.

The girls will be divided into groups of 8 each to a tent, and will be grouped according to age.

Ten days for ten dollars.

Can you beat it?

BRIDE-ELECT SHOWER MOTIF

Miss Elizabeth Cagin, who will become the bride of Elmer G. Conn on June 20, was the recipient of a kitchen shower given by Mrs. J. L. Esola, at her home Wednesday evening. The evening was devoted to playing cards, prizes being won by Mrs. Chas. S. Lipp and Miss Gladys Decker. A number of handsome gifts were given Miss Cagwin by her friends. The guests included Misses Blanche Lydiksen, Grace Rogers, Irene Conn, Margaret Esola, Jessie Lambrecht, Nina Gracie, Mary Bentley, Gladys Decker, of Berkeley, Ilva Standiford of Berkeley, Ethel Lambrecht, recently returned from Manila and Elizabeth Cagwin; Mesdames A. C. Burdick, D. A. Newcomb, T. J. McGinty, Helen Pulse, John Grierson, Chas. S. Lipp, T. G. Conn, L. S. Evans, Fred Candle of Oakland and J. L. Esola.

SATURDAY SUMMARY

Richmond seems to be getting back to normalcy, all right, if, indeed, it ever got away from it. Our poor, downtrodden sons of toil here continue to go to work in their flivvers, take baths on a Saturday night in porcelain tubs, whether they need it or not, attend the movies to the extent that the T. & D. is putting up a $200,000 building to accommodate them, have electric lights, hot and cold water, telephones, and eat pie three times a day, even if some of 'em do eat it with a knife. They also chip in regularly to the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army and a dozen churches, not to mention forty-leven lodges. We caught a lot of them taking home cucumbers at ten cents apiece lately, thus flying in the face of cramp colic as well as financial jazz. We are playing to mighty hard luck in Richmond, having nothing much to eat but T-bone steak and strawberries, and nothing much to wear but silk stockings, silk shirts, furs in warm weather and gauze when it is cold. Still, being a fairly pious people we manage to bear our burdens bravely and make the bankers work eight-hour shifts as well as ourselves, counting up the savings deposits.

* * *

We of the San Pablo Villa tract are much pleased to see the big ditch digger at work on the sewers and teams and scrapers busy grading the streets preparatory to paving them. All that is a luxury we have never known, and for many years have waded mud in winter and hiked along over ruts in summer, until at times our piety has been in danger of rupture. It never has been ruptured yet, but has had many narrow escapes. Good church members like Edgar Hurlbut, Frank McCausland, Pownell, Wood, Thompson, Weldon, Marsh and others have been known to say "Darn it," when they fell into a rut and had to be helped out, or skidded into mudholes in winter. We have never been able to take a walk—we just take a tumble, or a hop, skip and jump. Soon everything will be all dolled up, and we men folks are going to get together at the church building then to celebrate the event, and get "fullern a goat" on the fried chicken and hot biscuits the ladies are going to give us.

* * *

Please note, also, that Chief of Police Wood and his trusty coppers have rounded up another bunch of bootleggers this week and gave them to understand that a man can't be a respectable citizen of Richmond and a law-breaking booze hound at the same time. The Chief sure did get a big bunch of them this time, scattered all over the town and also grabbed enough illicit booze to give an army the T. D.'s. We should think that some of these poor nuts would get tired of being arrested and fined about once a month. If we had to go through that sort of thing it would get on our nerves. What our courts ought to do, however, is to give them good, stiff jail sentences on top of the fines. And why is it that some of these places, such as the Bank Bar and the Fort Bragg Bar that are continually being pulled by both local and Federal authorities, are not closed up and padlocks put upon their doors? There is provision in the state law for closing such places for a period of one year, and it should be enforced. Men who break the law, and then when reprimanded by the court and fined go right back and break it again, and again, and again, deserve nothing but a swift kick.

* * *

And speaking of politics and elections, there is one thing our people do not want to overlook at the coming election, and that is the vicious proposal to take away from the cities of California the right to grant and regulate franchises of public utility corporations and transfer it all, bag and baggage, over to the State Railroad Commission. That is something that should never be allowed. The State Commissions are already pretty much of a joke, and to turn any more of our rights and governing power over to them is altogether wrong. It is getting so we have a government of and by and for the political commisions, and the result is that our taxes are eating our financial hearts out, are four times more than they were a while back, and four times more than they ought to be. There are over a hundred of these political bodies functioning in our state, and every one of them have a small army of deputies, clerks and supernumaries of a more or less grafting nature. No wonder California taxes are the highest in the United States. Vote that down when it comes to getting it on the ballot. The corporations can generally quite readily handle political commissions, but they cannot handle all the people. And government by commisison is a farce, at best.

Cliff Weldon is coming down from the Contact mines in a few days to move his family up there during the summer school vacation. After that they will live in Nevada City. Quite a bunch of local men were up to see the mine this week and to Sample Weldon's famous brand of flapjacks and beans. None of them are under the doctor's care so they survived the flapjacks and beans, and as they doubled their investments as soon as they got back to town we judge they were satisfied with the mine also. The streams are going down some from the melting snow, and the trout are biting in the creeks and the three forks of the Yuba river, so it is a fine place up around there for a vacation. We would stay up there all summer if it were not for this dingbusted editorial department, and as soon as the public learns this we expect they will be writing in for us not to let that hinder us at all, but to go ahead up to the mines. That's just the way with people. The more one tells them how ornery they are the more they don't like it. But speaking of gold mines, what d'ye suppose George McPherson and his guests ran into up there a few days ago? They met an auto coming out with the manager of the 16-to-1 mine, adjacent to the Contact, and three armed guards with him. In the auto was $300,000 in gold, the product of the mine for two weeks, taken out in running the drift sixty feet. Three hundred thousand dollars in two weeks is not so bad! Along toward fall, when we get to taking it out in chunks like that, we intend to buy Dan Reardon a silk plug hat and a Prince Albert coat, so he will match up with that new theater building. We shall get Charley Donnelly a new pipe, also, as the one he has been smoking for the past fifteen years is worse than anything the Standard Oil Company ever did in the way of fumes. After that is all done then we may use some of the remainder in helping the city widen the subway. Also we are thinking of putting a handful of hundred-dollar bills into every church contribution basket in town and asking the ministers to pray about that much for us. Come to think of it, though, if we get the amount of praying for we really need a little measley $300,000 won't go far.

We were favored yesterday with a visit from an old-time acquaintance, a man who learned the printing trade under us in our first printing office, way out on the plains of western Kansas, forty years ago. He said he had been all over Kansas, Colorado and California, and wherever he went he heard of us, and so concluded when he got to Berkeley to come out to Richmond and see if we were the one he knew and worked for so long ago. Of coure it was, as it would never do to have two of our kind running at large. No use of our trying to hide away from people, because somebody outs 'em on our trail and the next thing we know they show up and borrow five of us. This one didn't, for a wonder, as he is well fixed. He said he had been in Richmond fifteen years ago, and was offered choice building lots right on Macdonald avenue, in the heart of what is now our business district, for a few hundred dollars, and when he looked over the city yesterday, and noted that the price of those same lots were now from $20,000 to $40,000 he said he wished he had some kind of a patent leg and foot, so he could kick himself with it. Moral—Buy Richmond property right now, for in the next fifteen years the growth and enhancement of value will be even more than it has been the last fifteen years.

Senator Watson of Georgia is trying to prevent the confirmation of three postmasters in his state because they talked against him. And maybe they told the truth, at that.

At the graduating exercises a great number of young men tell the world just how it ought to be run, and then settle down to doing it by knocking pool balls into pockets.

Glad to note that last month the price of foodstuffs advanced only one-half of one per cent, as that is staying inside of the celebrated Volstead limit.

This Will Interest Stomach Sufferers

Says Indigestion comes from an excess of hydrochloric acid

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy baloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is mad from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.—Adv.

"Queen of Sheba" Big Love Spectacle At the Macdonald

"Queen of Sheba," a William Fox super-special, directed by J. Gordon Edwards, came to the Macdonald Theater yesterday. It created a profound impression upon the first day audiences, and bids fair to prove the most talked-of photodrama of the season.

The pageantry attending the arrival of the Queen of Sheba at the court of King Solomon, which has held its place for centuries in song and story as supremely magnificent, is visualized in the picture drama in a manner completely satisfying to all.

There is scene after scene of great beauty and magnificence in "Queen of Sheba"—the marriage festival at the court of King Armud, the arrival at Solomon's court, the day of races, and games, including the chariot race between the Queen of Sheba and the Princess Vashti; the arrival of David, son of Solomon, the little Prince of Sheba; the battle between the ofrces of Solomon and Adonijah, and the pathetic final departure of the Queen of Sheba for her own realm.

Betty Blythe is a voluptuously royal and beautiful Queen of Sheba, and enacts the exacting role impressively, besides showing great daring and skill in the chariot races. Fritz Lieber, the noted Shakespearian actor, is an effective Solomon; Nell Craig is the Princess Vashti, George Seigmann is King Armud, and Claire do Lorez is Queen Amarath, wife of Solomon.

CHAPTER III.—On his first day in New York Lindsay is splashed with water by a janitor. That individual the ranger rider punishes summarily and leaves tied to a fire hydrant. A young woman who sees the occurrence invites Clay into her house and hides him from the police.

CHAPTER IV.—Clay's "rescuer" introduces herself as Beatrice Whitford. Lindsay says meets her father, Colin Whitford, and is invited to visit them again. He meets Kitty Mason by accident. She has been disappointed in her stage aspirations, and to support herself is selling c[illegible] in a cabaret. [illegible]y visits her t[illegible]

CHAPT[illegible]R V.—Kitty is in[illegible]su by a customer. [illegible]y punishes the annoyer. After a [illegible] mixup Lindsay escapes. Outside, h[illegible] attacked by Jerry Durand and a com[illegible]don and beaten insensible.

CHAPTER VI.—Lindsay's acquaintance with Beatrice Whitford ripens. Through her [illegible] is introduced into society. His "old [illegible]rtner" on the Arizona ranch, Joh[illegible]reen, comes to the "big town."

CH[illegible]R VII.—The two take an apartme[illegible]ther, Johnnie securin[illegible] employment [illegible] the Whitford's as "handy man." An advertisement signed "Kitty M." conveys the information that she is in trouble and implores Lindsay to come to a certain house where she is imprisoned. Clay is dubious as to its authenticity, but finally decides to go. He makes his way into what he supposes is the right house as [illegible]da himself in a young woman's be[illegible]

CHAPTER VIII.—Naturally the girl is reassured when Clay tells the reason for his unmeant intrusion, shows him how to enter the house and, after, through the roof. In the place come in a party of "gunmen," obviously waiting for his appearance. Lindsay "gets the drop" on the thugs, locks them in room, and escapes.

CHAPTER IX.—With a theater party which includes the Whitfords, Lindsay meets Kitty Mason, friendless and penniless. He leaves the party to take the girl to his apartment, there seemingly being no other place available and Kitty in dire need of immediate food and warmth.

CHAPTER X.—Beatrice resents Lindsay's interest in Kitty. Though not admitting it even to herself, she is becoming attached to the Arizonan, as he is to her. The two part in anger.

CHAPTER XI.—Hurt and indignant, Beatrice practically proposes marriage to an old admirer, Clarence Bromfield, wealthy man-about-town, and the third member of the party which we met at the beginning of the story. Their engagement is announced. Durand's gang kidnaps Kitty. Clay appeals to the girl he had met the night he escaped the trap Durand had set for him. She tells him where the girl is likely to be found.

CHAPTER XII.—At the place Clay conceals himself to await the arrival of Durand, probably with Kitty. He gets the thug alone, and in a fist fight worsts the professional bruiser.

CHAPTER XIII.—Kitty is rescued from her abductors by Johnnie Green, who has long admired the girl. He makes a declaration of his love and the wedding day is promptly set.

Clarendon ground his teeth impotently.

His guest continued to grin over the good stories of the old horse-trader. When he closed the book at last, he had finished it. His watch told him that it was twenty minutes to five. Bromfield's man was at the door trying to get in. He met Lindsay going out.

"No, I can't stay to tea today, Mr. Bromfield," the Arizonan was saying, a gleam of mirth in his eyes. "No use urging me. Honest, I've really got to be going. Had a fine time, didn't we? So long."

Bromfield used bad language.

CHAPTER XXI

In Central Park.

Johnnie burst into the kitchen beaming. "We're gonna p'int for the hills, Kitty. Clay he's had a letter callin' him home."

"When are you going?"

"Thursday. Ain't that great?"

She nodded, absently. Her mind was on another track already. "Johnnie, I'm going to ask Miss Whitford here for dinner tonight."

"Say, you ce'tainly get the best notions, honeybug," he shouted.

"Do you think she'll come?"

"Sure she'll come."

"I'll fix up the bestest dinner ever was, and maybe—"

Her conclusion wandered off into the realm of unvoiced hopes, but her husband knew what it was as well as if she had phrased it.

When Clay came home that evening he stopped abruptly at the door. The lady of his dreams was setting the table in the dining-room and chatting gayly with an invisible Kitty in the kitchen.

The delicate fragrance of the girl's personality went to Clay's head like wine as he stepped forward and shook hands. To see her engaged in this intimate household task at his own table quickened his pulse and sent a glow through him.

"You didn't know you had invited me to dinner, did you?" she said, little flags a-flutter in her cheeks.

They had a gay dinner, and afterward a pleasant hour before Clay took her home.

Neither of them was in a hurry. They walked through Central park in the kindly darkness, each acutely sensitive to the other's presence.

Her gayety and piquancy had given place to a gentle shyness. Clay let the burden of conversation fall upon her. He knew that he had come to his hour of hours and his soul was wrapped in gravity.

She too sensed what was coming and the last instinct in her was on tiptoe in flight. She was throbbing with excitement. Her whole being longed to hear what he had to tell her. Yet she dodged for a way of escape. Silences were too significant, too full-pulsed. She made herself talk. It did not much matter about what.

"Why didn't you tell us that it was Mr. Bromfield who struck down that man Collins? Why did you let us think you did it?" she queried.

"Well, folks in New York don't know me. What was the use of gettin' him in bad?"

"You know that wasn't the reason. You did it because—" She stopped in the midst of the sentence. It had occurred to her that this subject was more dangerous even than silence.

"I did it because he was the man you were goin' to marry," he said.

They moved side by side through the shadows. In the faint light he could make out the fine line of her exquisite throat. After a moment she spoke. "You're a good friend, Clay. It was a big thing to do. I don't know anybody else except Dad that would have done it for me."

"You don't know anybody else that loves you as much as I do."

It was out at last, quietly and without any dramatics. A flash of soft eyes darted at him, then veiled the shining tenderness beneath long lashes.

"I've had an attack of common sense," he went on, and in his voice was a strength both audacious and patient. "I thought at first I couldn't hope to win you because of your fortune and what it had done for you. Even when I knew you liked me I felt it wouldn't be fair for me to ask you. I couldn't offer you the advantages you'd had. But I've changed my mind. I've been watching what money does to yore friends. It makes them soft. They flutter around like butterflies. They're paupers—a good many of them—because they don't pay their way. A man's a tramp if he doesn't saw wood for his breakfast. I don't want you to get like that, and if you stay here long enough you sure will. It's in my heart that if you'll come with me we'll live."

In the darkness she made a rustling movement toward him. A little sob welled up in her throat as her hands lifted to him. "Oh, Clay! I've fought against it. I didn't want to, but—I love you. Oh, I do love you!"

He took her lissom young body in his arms. Her lips lifted to his.

Presently they walked forward slowly. Clay had never seen her more lovely and radiant, though tears still clung to the outskirts of her joy.

"We're going to live—oh, every hour!" she cried to the stars, her lover's hand in hers.

* * * * * * *

Johnnie felt that Kitty's farewell dinner had gone very well. It was her first essay as a hostess, and all of them had enjoyed themselves. But, so far as he could see, it had not achieved the results for which they had been hoping.

Clay came home late and next morning was full of plans about leaving.

"Two more days and we'll hit the trail for good old Tucson," he said cheerfully.

"Y'betcha, by jollies," agreed his bandy-legged shadow.

None the less Johnnie was distressed. He believed that his friend was concealing an aching heart beneath all this attention to impending details. As a Benedict he considered it his duty to help the rest of the world get married too. A bachelor was a boob. He didn't know what was best for him. Same way with a girl. Clay was fond of Miss Beatrice, and she thought a heap of him. You couldn't fool Johnnie. No, sirree! Well, then?

Mooning on the sad plight of these two friends who were too coy or too perverse to know what was best for them, Johnnie suddenly slapped himself a whack on the thigh. A brilliant idea had flashed into his cranium. It proceeded to grow until he was like to burst with it.

When Lindsay rose from breakfast he was mysteriously beckoned into another room. Johnnie outlined sketchily and with a good deal of hesitation what he had in mind. Clay's eyes danced with that spark of mischief his friends had learned to recognize as a danger signal.

"You're some sure-enough wizard, Johnnie," he admitted. "I expect you're right about girls not knowin' their own minds. You've had more experience with women than I have. If you say the proper thing to do is to abduct Miss Whitford and take her with us, why—"

"Once in a while you got to play like you're gonna treat 'em rough," said Mr. Green sagely, blushing a trifle nevertheless.

"All right. I'll let you engineer this if I can make up my mind to it after I've milled it over. I can see you know what you're doin'."

The conspirators arranged details. Johnnie was the brains of the kidnaping. Clay bought the tickets and was to take charge of the prisoner after the train was reached. They decided it would be best to get a stateroom for the girl.

"We wantta make it as easy as we can for her," said Johnnie. "Of course it's all for her own good, but we don't figure to treat her noways but like the princess she is."

Stomach As Heavy As Lead

March 16, 1922.
I suffered from dysentery and difficult breathing, my bowels moving constantly with bloody discharges. I also had morning indigestion and my stomach felt as though there was a piece of lead in it. Failing to get relief elsewhere, I took the herbs of the FONG WAN HERB CO. for two weeks. My former complaints have left me entirely and I am now enyojing good health.

Oakland, Feb. 3, 1922.
At intervals I suffered severe pleurisy pains which began in the right side of my chest and ran around under my arm into my shoulder blade. It was both painful and difficult to raise my arm. I had taken various sorts of treatment for the trouble, but had found no relief.
Now, after seven weeks of the FONG WAN HERBS, the pain in my chest is entirely gone and I feel quite well. I bought the herbs in packages and cooked them at home.

Shriner Autoists At Fort Mason

"I see, Tom, that there is to be a great outdoor camp at Fort Mason over in San Francisco, from June 11 to 17, to shelter 1500 autoists who will come here for the Shrine convention."

"Yes, and it's a fine idea, too. There will be hundreds of Shriners here who are motoring from their homes all over the country. The East and Middle West have heard all about this bay climate and have made the Shrine convention a cause for a long wanted motor trip."

"The paper says this Fort Mason camp will be one of the best equipped auto camps in the West. Water, lighting and sanitary conveniences are of the best and the camp will be under guard."

"I am hearing so much about the convention that I almost wish I lived back East so I could have the joy of discovering the wonders of the bay district all over again myself. That can't be, so I hope to have a great time greeting the visitors."

"Yes, I anticipate a great deal of fun out of that, too. In fact I just got a new suit especially for that occasion. By the way, do you know about Cherry's? If you don't you should. I got my suit there and they have mighty good values and allow a man to make practically any arrangements for payment that he wants. 528 13th street. They are open every Saturday evening until 10 o'clock.

Cherry's store for women is at 515 13th street.—Advertisement.

Grandma Used Sage Tea to Darken Hair

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss and youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dary and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store, all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Salts if Backachy and Kidneys Hurt

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder troubles you

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney regions it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, headache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable psysician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate singgish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

Many Richmond People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's The Back

Many people have a weak spot.
Too often it's a bad back.
Twinges follow every sudden twist.
Dull aching keeps up, day and night.
Backache is often from weak kidneys.
In such a case kidney medicine is needed.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.
For backache and urinary ills.
Richmond people recommend the remedy. Ask your neighbor.

Mrs. E. P. Howard, 575 N. Ninth St., Richmond, says: "I keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand. I know the value of them. I have used them when my kidneys were weak. I felt dull and languid and had frequent headaches. My back ached and my kidneys didn't act right. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured some at LaMoine's Drug Store.
